

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy governs the use of the official website of Mahatma Gandhi University.

Mahatma Gandhi University is committed to protecting the privacy of users and strives to provide a useful and safe online experience. Any information provided by users, whether public or private, will not be sold, exchanged, transferred, or given to any other institution for any purpose whatsoever without the user's consent, except where required by law or authorized procedures.

Mahatma Gandhi University treats personal information and the use of its online services as private and confidential. The University does not check, edit, or disclose such information to any third party except where it believes, in good faith, that such action is necessary to comply with applicable legal or regulatory requirements, to protect and defend the rights of the University or other users, or to enforce the terms and conditions governing the use of the website.

Except where specifically agreed upon or necessary for operational or regulatory purposes, Mahatma Gandhi University will not send unsolicited information to users via e-mail. Users may, however, unsubscribe from receiving such communications by following the instructions provided in the e-mail.

Mahatma Gandhi University may collect anonymous statistical data that does not personally identify users. Such information may be used to perform statistical analyses of user behaviour and characteristics in order to measure interest in and usage of various sections of the website and to improve its services.

The information and contents provided on this website shall not be copied, modified, uploaded, downloaded, published, republished, transmitted, or otherwise distributed for commercial purposes without prior and explicit permission from the competent authority of Mahatma Gandhi University.

Reproduction of any information or material available on this website, with or without modification, is prohibited without prior permission from Mahatma Gandhi University. Any such unauthorized use shall constitute a violation of copyright and may be treated as an illegal act under applicable laws.
