FROM THE VICE CHANCELLOR'S DESK

It offers me an immense pleasure to know that the Mahatma Gandhi University, Purba Medinipur, Mahishadal, West Bengal, is publishing its first Newsletter since its establishment.

My heartiest congratulations are extended to the members of the Editorial Team for their successful efforts to recognize this remarkable journey, despite many difficulties.

Our university is named after the Father of the nation, whose philosophy is widely celebrated around the entire world. Keeping the Gandhian philosophy in front of all of our academic and societal efforts this new-born temple of learning proceeds towards its future destination. The Newsletter is the newest feather in the University's crown, not only revisiting in a nutshell what we have succeeded in doing this far, but at the same time reminding us of the novel purposes left undone. It is a momentary expression in our journey, congratulating all concerned for the path travelled, and envisioning the journey ahead.

Once again, I congratulate the Editorial Team for the publication of the first Newsletter of Mahatma Gandhi University and wish the successful continuation of the Newsletter in future.
